Hospice gains pounds from weight loss firm

A HARLOW weight loss company has helped to raise £3,000 for charity.

LighterLife staff throughout the UK spent last year taking part in a range of different fundraising events, including book sales, baking days, regular dress-down Friday's, Virgin Vie events and a Christmas raffle in aid of the Little Haven's Children's Hospice.

The cash was finally handed over last week.

Juliette du Plessis, programme director for LighterLife, said: "Little Havens does amazing work for children and their families across Essex and LighterLife is proud to have the opportunity to support them.

"We are delighted to have raised £3,000 for such a worthwhile cause and hope to continue supporting them in the future."

Dave Bishop, deputy community fundraiser manager at the hospice which offers children with life-limiting conditions and their families care and support in a home-from-home environment, said: "We would like to say a huge thank-you to everyone at LighterLife, for their generosity towards Little Havens.

"Their fundraising has been a fantastic success and we look forward to building a long term relationship for the future."
